THE LEMON GROVE REVIEW

East County gains two more CIF Baseball titles

by Greg Eichelberger

It doesn't seem fair, but once again East County has dominated two out of the three CIF baseball finals, as Monte Vista and Granite Hills now reign supreme in the realm of the local high school game.

Perhaps the only reason it did not win a third jewel in the crown was because it was not represented in Div. III (Christian having lost to Bishop's in the semis).

The finals were played, for the first time, at San Diego State's Tony Gwynn Field, an intimate park just right for showcasing the creme de la creme of the prep season.

With a record of 23-9-1 (9-3 while finishing second in the Grossmont South League), and an impressive run through the play-offs, the Monarchs continued that trend by thrashing last year's CIF Division II runner-ups, the University of San Diego High School (26-7), 10-2, for its first ever championship.

Before the game, head coach and one-time minor league player, Mark Smelko, told his troops to "just go out and have a good time," and that's exactly what they did.

"I'm really proud of this team this year," said Smelko after the contest. "After finishing second (to Granite Hills) in our conference, we were a little down, but we put it all together in the post-season."

That might just be the understatement of the year. With the drubbing of the Dons, Monte Vista has outscored its post-season opponents by an incredible score of 31-5. Not a bad time to start rolling up such big numbers.

The skipper credited the offensive pyrotechnics to working hard during the winter, but could not explain why it all came together at this time.

Facing one of the best pitchers in the county, Uni's Mark Prior (15-2, 0.91 ERA), may have seemed a bit daunting, as the Monarchs went down 1-2-3 in the first.

The team made it clear that despite its recent absence from the finals (they last appeared in 1993, losing to Vista, 5-0, while still a Div. I school), it could play with the more experienced Dons, turning in several sparkling defensive plays in the bottom of the first.

In the second, first baseman Jeff Hankla staked MV to a lead by driving in two with a double. A 6-4-3 twin killing got Monarch's hurler Royce Ring (who defeated Montgomery in the semifinals) out of trouble in the second.

In the third, he managed to pitch out of trouble, but in the fourth, he was touched for two runs, including a solo circuit clout by Carlos Quentin, but that was all USDHS would muster the entire afternoon. The Monarch's Troy Perdue then singled in two in the fifth.

Taking advantage of a series of miscues and mental mistakes by Uni, Monte Vista wrapped this one up by scoring six times in the sixth, the big blow being a two-run triple by outfielder Joey Metropoulos.

Reliever Jared Hemus was untouchable in the next two innings and the mad celebratory rush was on.

"I just wanted to have the ball in my hands with the game on the line," said junior closer Hemus (7-3).

"When coach Smelko and (former Padre Chris) Cannizaro came and told us (in the seventh) that we were the best team they'd ever coached, I was even

Forum Family Movie Guide

Many parents prefer more information about films than the Motion Picture Association of America provides in its rating system. To assist them, Forum publishes a monthly list of new releases with notations of specific areas that might cause concern.

This guide does not rate a film's artistic quality and is not intended as an attempt at censorship. It is offered only as a resource for parents.

During June, the following new movies will be playing at some of the local theaters:

ALMOST HEROES (PG-13). Two unknown explorers lead a band of misfits across the uncharted American West. Contains slapstick violence, crude language and partial nudity. (Chris Farley's last film)

A PERFECT MURDER (R). A millionaire plans the murder of his unfaithful young wife. Includes sexual situations, some profanity, nudity and a graphic murder.

BULWORTH (R). After taking out a contract on his own life, a depressed U.S. Senator finds himself telling the truth about race and wealth in America. Contains vulgar language, drug usage, a nude painting, infidelity and a shooting.

DIRTY WORK (PG-13). Two unemployed losers set up a revenge-for-hire business. Includes crude humor aimed at the adolescent in all of us.

FEAR AND LOATHING IN LAS VEGAS (R). Journalist and friend travel to Las Vegas and cover a narcotics enforcement convention. Contains excessive drug use, gross vomiting scenes, strong language, adult themes, gun use.

GODZILLA (PG-13). Giant lizard chooses New York City for nesting purposes. Includes mild profanity and the usual Godzillish gore.

HOPE FLOATS (PG-13). Former homecoming queen moves back to home town after learning of husband's infidelity. Contains adult themes and family deaths.

SIX DAYS, SEVEN NIGHTS (PG-13). Mismatched cargo pilot and managing editor become attracted to each other when their plane is forced to land on a deserted island. Includes some profanity, sexual situations, action violence and scorpions(!).

MULAN (G). Young Chinese woman, dressed as a boy, fights invading Huns to save her homeland. Includes animated battle scenes.

QUEST FOR CAMELOT (G). A knight's daughter searches for Excalibur, King Arthur's magic sword. Contains a parent's death and some mildly scary cartoon creatures.

THE LAST DAYS OF DISCO (R). A group of young people frequent popular disco club in the early 1980s. Includes drug use, nudity, sexual situations and strong language.

THE HORSE WHISPERER (PG-13). Cowboy helps teenage girl and her prize horse, both severely injured in a riding accident. Contains mild profanity, infidelity and a horrifying accident scene.

THE TRUMAN SHOW (PG). Jim Carrey plays a man who discovers his entire life has been a television show. Includes mild profanity.

LIVE! Beat with Greg Eichelberger

The recent death of Santana graduate Leon Bender (class of '93) made it painfully obvious that even the best-laid plans can go awry when we're dealing with our own mortality. And that even the youngest, strongest, fastest and fittest of us are not above kicking the proverbial bucket.

I remember the summer of 1979, when both Yankee catcher Thurman Munson and St. Louis Cardinal tight end J.V. Cain died in a plane crash and of a heart attack, respectively. In 1986, Maryland basketball star Len Bias overdosed on cocaine a day after he was drafted by the Celtics.

Others have followed in the drug-death syndrome, snipping short lives and careers that could have meant something positive to countless youth looking for role models.

Unlike some athletes who've passed on before him, though, Bender's demise seems to have been purely accidental, a result of a lifelong seizure condition.

Even his coach at Santana, Doug Coffin (now an assistant at Grossmont College), recalled the time when he collapsed during a routine practice, saying that he fell just like a "giant redwood tree." Those around immediately called 911. Evidently, it was a treatable medical condition.

The 6' 5", 300-pound defensive tackle then went on to Washington State, and even though he had to attend a junior college to boost his grades (because he was academically ineligible), he was still able to graduate two weeks ago.

Then, on May 12, he signed a $3.5-million contract with Al Davis' Oakland Raiders. Now, all of that is over. With one swipe of his hand, the Grim Reaper has played a trump card which Bender (or any of us, for that matter) was unable to answer. He leaves behind a wife, a daughter, a father, a mother and four sisters.

The $3 million is gone, too, but I doubt if that really matters very much to the grieving famil, or his close friends, especially Coffin, who could only say what a shame it was for this happen to so nice a guy. "It's so sad."

Perhaps we all should remember that each day could possibly be our last. It's not a very pleasant thought, but it, at least, give us a proper perspective on the whole thing.

CIF baseball . . .

more determined to shut them down and wrap this thing up," he added.

The Div. I title game featured old league rivals, Granite Hills (27-6, 10-2, champs of the South) and Grossmont (27-6, 12-0, winners of the North Conference).

The Eagles, helmed by the legendary Gordy Thompson, last won the CIF title in 1994 (over Mira Mesa), while the Foothillers, led by Rob Phillips, were making their third straight appearance in the finals and were the defending champs.

The two teams met midway through the season and Granite won, 3-1. Everything pointed to this being one of the best games of the year.

Mike Wilson (10-3, 1.65 ERA) one of the best pitchers in the county, didn't think so as he was greeted with a two-run, 400-plus HR by Grossmont's Beau Craig (just drafted in the third round by the Padres) in the top of the first; it appeared as if Grossmont was well on its way towards another title.

But, even though his team had won 16 games in a row, Phillips said that Craig's home run "would not be enough tonight."

His words proved to be prophetic as Granite Hills, through timely hits, a series of walks, questionable umpiring and just plain slovenly play by the Hillers, put up a five-spot against Marcos Mendoza (11-0) in the bottom of the second en route to a 6-2 triumph.

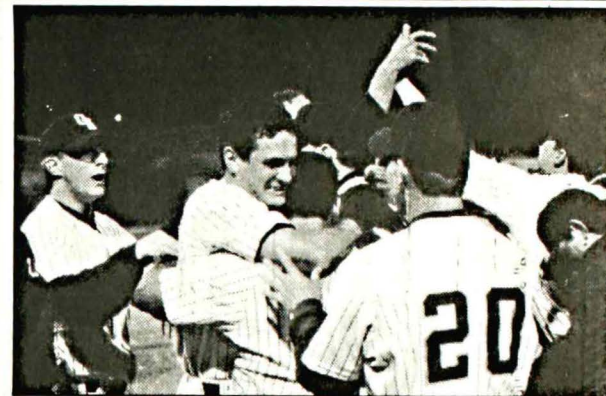

Grossmont players found themselves in an unfamiliar situation and were beginning to fall apart mentally; cursing each call and slamming down equipment as they saw their crown slowly slipping away.

Wilson, striking out 14 hapless Hillers while tossing a complete game, hammered the final nails in the coffin.

Like Monte Vista's Hemus, Wilson wanted to be on the hill with the game in the balance.

As for coach Thompson, he felt that this CIF jewel was his brightest. He said that winning in 1977 (as a rookie coach) showed him how hard it was to repeat (it took 17 years).

"This season, with all our difficulty, we still overcame and won," he added. "It's a great tribute to these young men and my staff."

Thompson was also a bit miffed by what he felt was a lack of respect for East County baseball, claiming that all throughout these playoffs he kept hearing how good North County was.

"Well, three East County schools were in the finals, and two won championships," he said. "I guess now we will get some kind of recognition."

Sports/Rec Notes

Local disabled student-athlete honored

Among the six high school student-athletes with disabilities receiving the state's Hal Connolly award for their achievements was El Capitan's Cameron Kincade.

Kincade, who has maintained a 3.783 grade point average, was able to participate in track and field events (shot-put and discus) despite Tourette's Syndrome.

The Lakeside student-athlete competed for all four high school years, including three on the varsity.

The awardees will receive $1,000 each toward their college expenses.

No state medals for East County

The best any East County athletes was able to do at the state CIF Track and Field championships was by Dan Ames of El Capitan, who finished fifth in the shot-put and fourth in the discus.

Ames shot-put of 58-10 was almost eight feet short of the winners. His discus throw of 188-5 was 14 feet short of the top throw of 202. Valhalla was seventh in the girls 4x400 relay.
